Meeting Thursdays, 12:15

At Washington Golf & Country Club

3017 N. Glebe Rd., Arlington VA

Chartered July 4, 1929 – Now In Our 85th Year

June 16 – 22, 2014

Dear Fellow Arlington Rotarians –

What a great weekend: Flag Day, Father's Day, excellent weather – hope everyone enjoyed it. June 19 will be our last “regular” meeting of the year, and it should be a busy one: In addition to our speaker Lloyd Wolf (below), summarizing a fascinating career in photography, we will have two club-sponsored exchange students, as well as the installation of next RY's leadership (the new cast of characters is at the very bottom of this e-mail).

Further on the Birthday Bash June 27: This is our last meeting before the Birthday Bash, and I don't know if there will be an Arclight next week or not, so please note:

- Most of our members have already let us know their plans for attending our celebration on June 27. A handful have not, and if you're one of those, please let Steve Klemp know if you're attending, or go to this link to register:
- <http://events.constantcontact.com/register/event?llr=b44b9sqab&oeidk=a07e9cf8j65b310e97b>.
- It's NOT TOO LATE to invite additional guests for the event.
- Also, it is VERY effective to call your contacts, make sure they've received their invitation and focused on it, tell them you'd really like to see them at this special event, and find out if they plan to come. This past week I called or e-mailed five people in this way, four of whom agreed to come and signed up (the other was planning to be out of town).
- Many people have asked for directions. The NRECA Conference Center is at 4301 Wilson Blvd. -- between N. Glebe and Taylor St. in Ballston. (The blue dot in the map.) The building fronts on Wilson, but the ramp to the underground parking is off the side street, Taylor. Map below. Map and directions will also be available at our meeting this week.

Our Program This Week – Thursday, June 19 – A Life In Photography

Photographer Lloyd Wolf will present an overview of his career, including compelling work from magazine, book, fine art, and documentary projects. Two of his bodies of culturally and historically significant images, "The Arlington Photographic Documentary Project" and "Living Diversity: The Columbia Pike Documentary Project" focus on life in our community.

More About Our Speaker: Lloyd Wolf is an award-winning photographer with work in Corcoran Museum of Art, Library of Congress, Museum of Jewish Heritage, American University of Cairo, and other institutions. With over 100 national and international exhibitions, he has worked on assignment for Washington Post, National Geographic, AFL-CIO, People, Vogue, NIH, and others. He received a National Endowment for the Arts Grant in 1980 to document Arlington, VA. Current projects include documenting Columbia Pike, and "Washington's Other Monuments," on street shrines to violence victims. His books include "Jewish Mothers: Strength Wisdom Compassion," "Jewish Fathers: A Legacy of Love," "Facing the Wall: Americans at the Vietnam Memorial," and, to be published in 2014 "Jerusalem Stories," a collaborative examination of the lives of Jews and Palestinians. He has taught at George Mason Shepherd College, and to homeless and immigrant youth.

Announcements

Blood drive June 21 at Central Library: As of the time I write this, we need one more volunteer to cover the registration desk; also those who are eligible to give blood, please consider doing so. Virginia Hospital Center Arlington shares in the blood supplies INOVA collects.

June 19 is the date for a unique community giving campaign called “Do More 24”; you can donate to the local charity of your choice on the United Way National Capitol Area website (sorry, no Rotary clubs or foundations are listed, but 700 other organizations are); some restaurants are also participating by giving a percentage of their profits on that date.

For the Record

Our speaker on June 12 was member Mike Matthai, with a very interesting classification talk.

Incoming RI President Huang has suggested that every Rotary Club plan one event dedicated to the theme “Light Up Rotary.” We are ahead of the game, having designated our June 27 event to this theme. Could we be the first club to honor and implement the President’s request?

Guests on this date were: the new Assistant Governor for our area SuYong Min (photo at left – she is a member of the Bailey’s Crossroads club), who presented us the banner bearing the RI President’s theme for the coming year, “Light Up Rotary.” Pres-Nom Jeff’s wife Colleen Barton Sutton, owner of RedJacket Communications, joined us to help with planning the 85th. Robert Martinson’s visitor was Madeline Caporiccio, an associate broker with McEneaney in McLean; and Kim Durand had three student guests, Talbia Abdullah, Anna Tramosch, and Rachel Robertson.

AREF President Joe Lott conducted a member vote on adoption of the revised Articles of Incorporation, which was approved unanimously. Joe also mentioned that he has found, and is scanning, the historical records of AREF for posterity.
