Program: June 16 - 12:00-1:30 PM at WGCC Marjorie Varner, Executive Director, Encore Learning “Back to ‘College’ for Pure Knowledge”

Since 2003, Encore Learning has offered metro-area residents who are 50+ the opportunity to take college-level courses, join special interest clubs, and attend special events which reflect the rich offerings of the DC area. Governed, powered and supported by member volunteers, this growing non-profit boasts fall and spring semesters of noncredit classes held in local educational institutions. Retired and working professionals and scholars volunteer their expertise teaching adult students eager to taste academia again.

Marjorie Varner has lived in Arlington since 1984 when she moved from Texas to join Arthur Andersen's Consulting Division in Washington DC. She and her husband, both Rice grads, raised two children in the Ashton Heights neighborhood. A one-time civic association president, Marjorie also spent many volunteer hours as an Assistant Scoutmaster in BSA Troop 104. She is a recent Leadership Arlington graduate and has worked for Encore Learning since 2004.

Program: June 16, 6:00 – 8:00 PM at The Front Page in Ballston

Our biweekly informal happy hour – join Rotarians, bring a guest, meet new people and network over a beer and a snack.

Last Week

Alessandra Colia, Executive Director of the Urban Alliance of Northern Virginia, described how the Urban Alliance youth development program seeks to address the negative consequences of youth unemployment by combining paid professional internships, workplace readiness training, and mentoring on the job.
