Speaker: Liz Ryan, President/CEO, The Youth First Initiative
“Reforming Youth Justice”

Liz Ryan, a campaign strategist and youth justice expert, is the President & CEO of the Youth First Initiative a national campaign to dismantle the youth prison model, close youth prisons and redirect resources to community-based alternatives to incarceration. She is the founder and former CEO of the nationally recognized Campaign for Youth Justice (CFYJ), which leads the national effort to end the practice of trying, sentencing and incarcerating youth in the adult criminal justice system. Since CFYJ was launched in 2004, nearly half the states have reduced the prosecution of youth in adult court. Liz has worked on many campaigns, including spearheading the launch of the Act 4 Juvenile Justice campaign (Act4JJ) to overhaul the main federal law on youth justice, the Juvenile Justice & Delinquency Prevention Act (JJCPA), and the No More Oak Hills campaign to successfully close the notorious Oak Hill Youth Detention Center for DC's youth. An author of numerous opinion editorials, articles and reports, Liz frequently serves as an expert resource to reporters and national media outlets.

Last Week

Charlies Meng, Executive Director and CEO of the Arlington Food Assistance Center, provided us an update on AFAC news, including the progress of remodeling their offices and food pantry premises on South Nelson street; the growth of the number of families served by AFAC's programs; and the resources needed/used to do so. ARC President David Sutfin presented AFAC our club's annual donation, sufficient to purchase the 50 cases of breakfast cereal that represent our “compensation” to our weekly speakers.
