Ramon Montes – Founder/President/CEO

The Regratifying Foundation

In 2017 Ramon Montes met a foster care alumnus who beat the odds by graduating from college and having a successful career in Washington, D.C. Later, Ramon researched the success rate of foster care youth and was saddened to find that only 65% of foster care youth complete high school, and less than 10% graduate from college. He was inspired, moved, and energized to help these youth have a successful life after foster care. That is the mission of the Regratifying Foundation, a new 501 (c) (3) in Northern Virginia, dedicated to encouraging foster care youth to continue their education, learn about and consider professional careers, and set future personal and career goals before they age out or emancipate from foster care.

Last Week's Meeting

Scott Miller, Senior Director of Development at A-SPAN (the “SPAN” part of the name originally meant “Street People’s Assistance Network”) related that although the organization is most widely known for operating its Homeless Services Center, it is equally engaged in a wide range of programs aimed at ending homelessness in Arlington, beginning from the basic premise of “housing first” (meaning that until a homeless person has a secure place to live, sleep, and eat it will be nearly impossible for him/her to resolve the other issues.

Other Upcoming Events and Programs
