Claudia Bonangelino

“50 Years of CEDA: Supporting Schools and Hospitals in Argentina”

Since CEDA (Comisión Esperanza de Damas Argentinas) was founded 50 years ago, its core mission and institutional structure have remained largely unchanged. Yet it has adjusted to remain relevant both to its community of members in DC and to meeting the needs of the communities it supports in Argentina. Ms. Bonangelino will describe CEDA's work, how it has changed with the times and what institutions like Rotary could learn from the CEDA experience about international aid projects.

Claudia Bonangelino is a DC native who attended the Argentine School fo DC (founded by CEDA) as well as Immaculata College High School. The daughter of Argentine parents, she returned to Argentina for college, graduating with a degree in Political Science from the Catholic University of Córdoba. Returning to the DC area to attend graduate school in environmental and resource economics, she has lived primarily in Maryland since 1994. She is currently a social studies teacher at the Argentine School, where she has been teaching History of the Twentieth Century since 2001. Since returning to the DC area she has been actively involved with CEDA and has been on the board for more than 10 years. Claudia is also very involved in Toca Juniors Football Club, a local youth soccer organization.

Last Week

Christine McCurdy, Executive Director of the Urban Alliance, showed us how her organization's goals and efforts, like our own AREF, focus on high school seniors. Urban Alliance develops partnerships between/among business and nonprofits, and governments to offer paid year-long internships for high school seniors based on their need. Through internships, they can earn money while also acquiring skills needed to work successfully in school and business.

Our Venue Last Week

Several members expressed regrets they could not attend last week's meeting to obtain a first-hand impression of the Residence Inn venue. Below, the Arclight offers a few photos to provide at least a second-hand look (sorry, we forgot to photograph the food). As you see, this location offers a modern setting in the heart of Ballston, fully equipped for speakers, with a buffet lunch, and free parking.

IS IT THE TRUTH?

WILL IT BUILD GOOD WILL AND BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?

WILL IT BE BENEFICIAL TO ALL CONCERNED?
