Rotary Events This Week

March 13 – 6:00 – 8:00 PM. Tuesday Happy Hour at Pinzimini (The Westin Gateway Ballston)

March 14 - 12:00 - Thursday lunch Program: ARC Member Sherry Barndollar Rock - Classification Talk

A “classification talk” is a new member’s presentation about her- or himself. Every member is asked to do one. “Classification” means a member’s professional field but the talk generally is broader, including whatever the new member wants to tell us about her background, development, history, other interests.

Sherry has been a member for a while but had been too busy running our charitable foundation and doing our fundraising efforts – with great success – to do a “classification talk” until now.

March 14 – 1:30 PM – ARC Board Meeting after the regular meeting.

March 14 - 6:00 PM – Come help wrap and inscribe the books we are donating to two local elementary schools. Robert Martinson’s office, 4075 Wilson Blvd., Eighth Floor, Arlington.

Other Club News

✓ Farewell to David Baas. March 7 was David Baas's last meeting with us as he begins a new phase with the Peace Corps in Costa Rica. David hopes to find a new Rotary club to join there; he also plans to do a blog (address to be provided) so we'll be able to share some of his experiences. The prosecco that magically appeared helped us bid him bon voyage and offer best wishes for success in this new line of service.

✓ Bobbie O'Brien, a Board member of the Little Friends for Peace, about the Peace Camp planned this summer at the Unitarian Universalist Church here in Arlington. Children 4-14 will be involved in two weeks of activities designed to prepare them for lives devoted to peace-building. Promoting Peace is one of Rotary International's major pillars. If you'd like to help or donate, check the website at: <http://www.lffp.org/peacecamp.html>; or reach Bobbie via Hugh Barton.

✓ Greeters for March are Sue Pyatt and Raquel Neumann.
